

US National Standard in Culture

News Reporting on TV

Nancy of Oregon: You see how it is that Katie Courick, Dr. Phil's wife (Jane McGraw) and Ophra Winfrey are shown with scathing moral issues, turning the major networks into an Enquirer.

Mathzedes: The King has a right to investigate Obama's birth certificate. He has a right to examine why it is that Scott Pelley claims to be born in Texas, does not have a Texas accent if he was really born and lived there until age 32!

MOSES: In time, both questions can be answered when there is the establishment of the National Standard. For example, the "adultery" of Clinton can be brought out as a major national concern, as you see in the concerns of Luce over the famine in China that he saw would kill the millions.

NOSTREDAME: It was Walter Cronkite who ended the Vietnam War over rubber from his weeklong special on CBS with his going over to Vietnam himself to return in representing the soldiers' plight himself.<sup>1</sup>

Harry Luce of Time: Nostredame taught from the article that was of the magazine Time/Life. He taught on the cannibalism in the famine which we had reported on.

<sup>1</sup> President Lyndon Johnson said that if Walter Cronkite is reporting this on the nightly news, and with all Americans watching TV news nightly, (we) have lost the war.

MOSES: You can see that these news reporting positions do require an adherence to the Kings, to the Military Law Council morality. This news reporting also requires a policing.

Betsy (and Walter) Cronkite: You see this garment worn by Walter is that he represents the People! He does not represent the power establishment but the People.
