The Thomas Jefferson Party

Source: Liberalism, Viorst, 1963

Jefferson reflected the nation's deep feeling for liberty when he wrote in 1787: "God forbid we should ever be twenty years without a rebellion. What country can preserve its liberties if its rulers are not warned from time to time that this people preserve the spirit of resistance? . . . What signify a few lives lost in a century or two? The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. It is its natural manure.

WINSTON, Daniel Boone, Admiral Nelson:

Thomas Jefferson said— "Manure?" Well, don't...on me!

Henry Jarvis Raymond of New York Times: What you read is the deliberate presentiment of Thomas Jefferson called the Jeffersonian party politics that have been put upon the Eagle public.

William Paley of CBS: It is not something you would have thought has been the bane of TV, news broadcasting and politics. There is nothing sacrosanct, in particular, the moral majority. The Judeo-Christian heritage.

Jarvis Raymond: What he did was to have the workers to be labeled capitalists or communist but was to fight a system they are not able to win. Whatever “revolution” meant, would only be violence and stalemate.

Henry Robinson Luce: You can see why it was that we the media authority had to fight this political milieu, the 2 parties, the siding whether with Thomas Jefferson or Madison’s party for wealth owners. It is not what is the meaning of the United States.

Jarvis Raymond: And this is reinforcing the political scene such as you have it, that liberalism is to proclaim the new is sacrosanct and must be privileged such as going to Vietnam to find rubber by military command of Washington DC.

Bill Paley: What gives the right of the President as commander-in-chief to sacrifice the lives of the young men to find rubber for Detroit?

Jarvis Raymond: It is the libertinism called liberalism. It is no more different than a Karl Marx that does not work, and is there to dub others into pigeon-holes of hate mongering.

It is the thinking that we have the right over property anywhere and whenever we want it, and the young men are at our disposal if they happen to be born Eagles here.

Bill Paley: Do you see the Nazism? Or you are not able to? It is centralized heinous behavior where there is no free press. It was only Walter Cronkite that finally ended this war.

Walter Cronkite: And even then, there was opposition to major media to tell the truth—at CBS.

Harry Luce of Time: This was far be it from us, that we as “the” media “status quo” were not able to push through our agendas, whether it was at Time Magazine, CBS or at the New York Times.

George Washington: As I had said, “John Quincy Adams and I knew what Thomas Jefferson was doing, he was gathering to him, the power seen in the English Parliament over the corn laws.”

And this he himself in this glaring statement that we will always have the “patriots and tyrants” is not where this nation must go now.

MOSES: It must go the way of law and order, not libertinism. To have no standard of culture or National Standard as in the Ten Commandments. That the First Amendment to be free to “establish religion” by the People has been dishonored and to have pitted against the moral majority ones who seek to profit from property rights for landowners and business laissez-faire, is as a heresy of the United States Constitutional authored by Thomas Jefferson.

The War on the Religious Right

Outdated haters don't deserve to be heard.

Anyone following the tone of the news media at home might be puzzled at this treatment of the ideological spectrum. The conservative position is automatically “far right,” and the liberal position is always moderate.

MOSES: And thus this is the battleground with the liberals that must be changed. The evidence is not for the Jefferson Party to represent the poor people. It is contrariwise, that the unions can truly win. Even public education is fodder to the Cain civilization.

MOSES: Free trade is not synonymous with freedom. It is quite the opposite.
