

Dating Policy

MOSHE: The following excerpts of the dating policy were given to the military and police. This policy is not ideal. It is not what I would consider a viable dating policy. It is a dating policy having to do with the society's circumstances at hand that are untenable.

The marriage in the desert was not for economic reasons as you have here in the United States, it was to bring about a family only. What with the unemployment rate being almost at 50%¹ children are living at home, fornicating and not marrying for a family.

Of this dating policy, the 24 months is for the reason that these are strangers to one another to marry and require a long time to find out who these people really are. Furthermore, you do not have the matchmakers as we had to recognize of each family's reputation.. Therefore the number of months can be reduced from the 25 months to as low as 4 months if these know each other from childhood.

The ideal policy is to be married to have children. And both but especially the male must have religious education along with knowing the Ten Commandments. The couple would go live with their parents. And start their family there.

Nancy of Oregon: The consensus is that no family will take in a family where the children are unruly. Most children are difficult children than not. Therefore we ask that unless you give the children non-toxic medicine homeopathic: Veratrum Album, Ledum, Pulsatilla and Chamomilla and Belladonna for their unruliness, that you cannot expect to go and live with the parents. You will need to get your own housing.

ANDREA of Chicago: But as Moshe says, the children would go and live with the parents as the marriage is for a family and children and not to be concerned about having money under control.

MOSHE: Most families require the children to live in the household for practical reasons and so you would see that this is a change in how the United States had veered into a way that was absent the family kinship of the past.

As you saw what the Hebrews did to Mary Magdalene, for now, I would state to the man of the house, that should he ever stalk and rape the bride, that he will be killed. And for now, that you see to him being killed.²

Nancy of Oregon: It is fine to draw up a legal document. You would include this. Include child abuse. You can include something about paying rent. However our concern is that there is not the older man's usurpation of power.

² Typist: I know this sounds strange. But what I have seen is that any woman raped in the house would require the oldest son to throw him out of the house, change the locks. The rapist is somehow killed after that. It goes by some sort of law actually.

Recap of meeting with Mother Mary: Dating Policy

Typist: Mother Mary will be away for several days. So there is no follow-up to this at present. These are what notes I remembered.

1. Women are not to serve in active duty. They go overseas and they are raped. It does not mean their role is any less, it means that they go into the other areas such as office work.

2. The dating policy is:

Stage 1 is every Wednesday night. The military bases will have both active military, administrative and California Missions workers there and other workers.

ANDREA SELESTOW: She would also ask the Stage 1 to include for the others not dating, a friendship gathering such as a meeting on library books (that could include Bible study) where people discuss values and who are not dating, but to allow people to meet friends there of the opposite sex and not feel lonely for not having someone to talk to.

Typist: To be dating, individuals would let the Marriage & Family (M&F) counselor know that they are interested in meeting with a certain person and would attend if that person were there.

Mathzedes: At the Wednesday event, you would play the R&B music of Michael Jackson/Stevie Wonder type music.

It is a joyous music to them for an hour.

They are given the table-for-two event. They go and talk individually with a person to find out their history and values.

Another room can be set aside for those already dating or not dating.

ANDREA SELESTOW: This can also be karaoke night if you prefer.

“This could be longer then” is what Archaei Mary says, and that the non-dating others could be invited in for karaoke.

ANDREA SELESTOW: The M&F Counselor would tell them the dating policy at the onset. The dating is for 25 months and if they are older, and close to no longer having children, then they can marry younger. The older you get, the less time to wait. However that is to allow the person time to consider.

The M&F counselor would say to each that each can get out at any time.

Mathzedes: At table-for-two, the men and women are given the names of those who are to learn of the history of the person and their values. Mostly what Archaei Mary says is that their duty is to test them for the Ten Commandments.

All are to go in civilian clothes. No uniform. The brass would change after the hour.

Then what if there is no one there of interest?

What she said was that they must live in that area, as there cannot be a gapping hole in this system. If it is a colonel, then the potential date would need to transfer to where he is working. The colonels would have to be traveling to another area to go to the Wednesday meetings.

Typist: What Mother Mary said was that the brass require someone with a higher intelligence and being a companion on deep subjects. That they know what they are often looking for. They are traveling.

I will give you an example of a higher order. The dating period is 25 months. When Mighty Astrea was asked, "Who is someone I might marry?" And she went to look at the records, and she said, "The one at the highway patrol."

And the police said, "Her? Why didn't I think of her!" He had been stopping by to see her on Highway 5 for many years to go out to talk to her in particular and she was "an absolute blast to be with," laughing the whole time.

ANDREA SELESTOW: At Stage Two, this is when two people decide they want to date. They then are put on a list that others know these two eagles are dating. And they are given the code of conduct: no fornication, no touching to covet, the only touching allowed is holding hands only after many months and only if allowed by the other eagle.

Mathzedes: You refer to these as eagles. They are seen as eagles who have territory and eventually will protect the nest of these two eagles.

ANDREA SELESTOW: There is a 1-minute ceremony. "Do you agree to have this person as your companion?" And it is that the two assent to this. They are told, you can get out of this at any time. "Do you agree?" That's the ceremony of the M&F counselor.

ANDREA SELESTOW: At the point they decide to marry, they would choose the same marriage vows or another. However they are able to divorce. There is in addition a divorce ceremony, in which the person cannot go back. But they sever the ties and do not make further back-direct. The ceremony says, "You are not to have any further contact with this person. You are to go your separate ways. You leave the other person alone. Do you agree?" That is all to the ritual.

Mathzedes: She says it is important to do this as the couples often go back to one another. And they start to make even more backdirect.

ANDREA SELESTOW: The policy we had at the Church was at a divorce, to not consider marrying for another year.

The policy on the children is that they are, from 2 years to 9 years old to be raised in the community she so designated: 5 in total.

Mathzedes: This does not change for some time as the ghettos and TV shows have not been cleaned out and it is not safe to grow up in these places.

Mathzedes: She did not comment on meeting those at the university or community. For now, this is all we have.

ANDREA SELESTOW: Furthermore, you see the impracticality of this if the family is asked to move, and there is resistance to this if they are not both in the military. If both do not share the its higher standard of conduct.

ANDREA SELESTOW: What she did say was that many of the people who find themselves in the military have served together in other lifetimes.

Typist: What is the dating police for police? Police get all the worse possible candidates. Primarily prostitutes and people who want police protection.

MOTHER MARY: Think on this for now.

Typist: Give me a hint, please on the dating police for police

NANCY of Oregon: What works is not sexual attraction. What does not work is even the twin in your personality. What is most important to consider in marriage is that both people are working on spiritual growth and in particular the career path together that they have something to share in what they have learned. So to me, go to Church and see if you find someone who is also trying to learn about the Ten Commandments who is living to understand: Thou shall not steal, thou shall not have sexual misconduct.

NATHAN the Judge: You would be surprised how many people worship stealing and shoplifting. And this is where the police would be miserable just dating someone who happens to be sociable and likable among peers.

Typist: There is a fine line between the moral citizen and officious person. Police often are attracted to women who have the law sense. Then what I would add is that these do not have the "criticism, condemnation and judgment" in them.

ANDREA SELESTOW: They are however not weaklings.

NANCY of Oregon: They are capable of building a wall of anger to protect you. This would be an important criteria.

NANCY of Oregon: Do read the book by M. Scott Peck called "Road Less Traveled" on what is love and what is the illusion called "falling in love."

ANDREA SELESTOW: Briefly, love is a parent getting after the child who refuses to do his homework because this is the best thing for him. So love is not warm and fuzzy.

NANCY of Oregon: Love is about spiritual growth.

NANCY of Oregon: Right, there are other criteria specific to police. The women cannot be gossips. The women cannot be high maintenance. Rather it is the police that are high maintenance.

Typist: It is helpful if the women are someone more on the autistic side. That is they are not ones to have battles with you but rather smell the flowers or figure out mathematical equations that are a block long as it is enough to be police and not have battles at home.

ANDREA SELESTOW: Where most arguments are non-existent. Especially to police.

NANCY of Oregon: You say, "We do not have a dating policy but we are getting one!"

ANDREA SELESTOW: You cannot even imagine the pain that the military leaders felt, the weeping, that castrated military told their families that the leadership castrated them as their solution for not having a dating policy.

Re: Dating

MOTHER MARY: What is seen in real life is that people are community oriented, and we will have more to say about this as we endeavor to explain the economic pyramids. Here however people do know each other who are older.

MOTHER MARY: Here is the hiking club in Santa Rosa, California. And then you have the hiking clubs in Shasta-Redding the ones further south in Mill Valley and even further south to the hiking clubs in Menlo Park.

MOTHER MARY: At the dance halls, they meet the same people on the hiking clubs. They are not raunchy night-clubs. These are legitimate hiking club fans who meet again people at the dance halls that are between say 6 pm and 10 pm.

MOTHER MARY: The bands are there that will play at the local library. Some of the songs are gospel music. Mostly it is old time dance music. They are trained in the high school bands and orchestras to play folk tunes.

And these are simple rooms. Nothing elaborate. But they regularly meet, say every Saturday the dance club meets. They know each other.

MOTHER MARY: These are the old dance halls in San Francisco.

Typist: The dancing is how in heaven, people meet each other. It is however not the same as hiking where you have the opportunity to both keep to yourself or to just talk to other people. However you will find that in the hiking clubs a more mature interchange where you can talk about books. However you can see the necessity for the dance clubs as some people do not read. But the dance hall is there every week.

Mathzedes: The dance is something in heaven. On earth, it can be planned to have other endeavors.

MOTHER MARY: We would not recommend the Table for 2.

Typist: This is where they have the people fill out questions and answers at tables and go to the next “interview” as to who might be the next person to shop around with.

MOTHER MARY: On confidentiality, you would have all military personnel to go off base with phony IDs and names.

Typist: Santa Rosa is not Oakland California however. So where you hold these dance hall places, it has to be limited to where they have a safer place. The men would feel more secure in knowing who and who is not from Santa Rosa. You can tell who is a Santa Rosa person.

MOTHER MARY: However even policeman parties, they have you show your id. And that is fine. It is however not fine, for the guard to simply let in the prostitutes to the bases.

EMPEROR LeAMTHE: Would the prostitutes go to the dance halls? Not likely. Most people who go to the dance halls like to dance.

How you can limit the amount of prostitutes is to not allow for alcohol at all.

MOTHER MARY: There will be older people there at the dance halls, those who dance into their retirement age. And they can spot who is a hired prostitute.

Mathzedes: What you do is to train your men to ask directly if the women are prostitutes.

EMPEROR LeAMTHE: The prostitutes want to castrate the men for a fee. The men need to know how to ascertain this.

EMANZIANDIE: The face reading was an helpful exercise. Then as each State will have different laws on prostitutes, you would need to have the police arrest the prostitutes that they cannot go to this dance hall. The local police may at times know who are the prostitutes. However that is not a surety as there are an entire class of castrating prostitutes from China that has not been weeded out of the populace.

MOTHER MARY: You will need to ascertain what are the social security number frauds in this manner. You would for sure, have the sign in sheets and have the ID checked before anyone could come into the dance halls or hiking clubs.

Typist: Will they be offended by this? No. In Santa Rosa, to attend the hikes and county lectures, you sign-in. And they say, it is for a newsletter. The kind like what is the latest recipe from Santa Rosa plum.

Typist: On college and universities that may even be easier. As there are women sororities. And several times a semester, there can be a planned dance and even have the place be a use of the “reserved room” system they have on campus. But the women would appreciate this themselves. Even if they are not of a sorority, there can still be planned dances, no different than you have planned college football. The student hall is the next military dance.

SAINT DIANE: You can simply approach the Student Union facility now even and plan this. They use the student union for this very purpose, to meet on artsy and demo shows, they are not about making money, it is for student fun.

ANDREA SELESTOW: They have dances there, it just needs to put in their schedule. They have repeats of the high school proms. It can be added. It is a natural progression, going from high school to college, and they carry on this social functioning at the colleges.

Typist: The military uniform in public you may say to me, “It is so that others do not speak to the men.” But you are saying, “we do not have a marriage policy, we do not have a code of conduct, and therefore we use the uniform.”

MOTHER MARY: However as the FBI comes under the Military Law Council, you will see different levels of commitment.

MALACHI: And this is the way it was as Father Malachi and Father Strong, you had to be in uniform or you would be castigated.

MOTHER MARY: The universities would be safer, (if there are not the students from Red China.) as the facilities are used exclusively by the students and faculty usually.

Mathzedes: What is not designed in the Universities is a Martial Law Council directive to protect these places.

NOSTREDAME: And that will have to be in the works. The campus police are quite inadequate to protect women or foreign takeover. What they look for are primarily who is a student there and who is not a student there. They do not go through what is a thorough enough check as to who has a stolen ID. And this would only be possible if the Martial Law Council would up the protection of the United States colleges and universities. And make their presence there permanent and visibly.

MOTHER MARY: We will end here. The dating policy encompasses more, to speak on marriage policy and that may be something you would deign, however this is a beginning.

MOSHE: The last box is that you see this is an older population in the dating policy.

Typist: The Table for 2 described here is the “meat shop” that money-making businesses are pushing. You pay for the dinner and you will find the husband or bride is the advertising.

And this is not where the dating policy is to be at all.

MOSHE: Marriage is a holy event.

Typist: What you are to ask at the table is not “what courses do you take in college?” You look for criminality, dishonesty, lack of faith.

ANDREA of Chicago: You say, “Okay this person has faith in love.” Saying “I love you” is not always backed by the strong arm of truth and integrity. Rather, it is not but just a Hollywood line. A imitated giving of an handshake and a hug.

MOSHE: You will want to write down their history on drugs. Their history on fornication. Prostitutes. Their telling you the history learning in their months and years of Tae Kwan Do is not that relevant.

Typist: I would not automatically assume that all boys are taught to be fornicators in the United States. There was a CBS worker who worked with an eagle eye in broadcasting and he could not be bothered with fornication. He had his greatest strength in his TV broadcasting from his not fornicating. And he really outshined most Americans, as with the onslaught of the Red Guards, he still stands. He would outwit the enemy time and time again. He would hear the voice of justice come to the rescue at a bomb site and know to act with alacrity. Obviously he also had ministrations by Mother Mary in homeopathic medicines, but you must try to understand that not fornicating is a plus in a man.

MOTHER MARY: These are the unsung heroes in the United States of America.

MOSHE: MOSHE: What the churches would do then is to find what is your dating policy.

MOTHER MARY—

Blessed ones, do you not find it strange that the original Vicar of Christ, Peter, was married and yet all others who followed have been given the law of celibacy? Do you understand, beloved, that the rabbis who came before were married and are to this hour? And do you understand that the nature of wholeness found in the balance of Alpha and Omega is a security and a protection to the path of spirituality when complementary ones may serve together in holy matrimony?

You find, then, that where the spiritual teaching as practiced in the Far East is not a part of the goal of celibacy, the end of that celibacy is far more heinous than the lawful marriage that is also ordained for those clergy outside of the Roman Church. Thus, today homosexuality is rampant in the Church with high percentages of my priests so engaged. The misuse of the sacred fire, unlawfully [according to the laws of God], does place those priests outside of their vows, outside of a sense of personal dignity and truly outside of the holiness of the altar.

These burdens upon the religious in holy orders have, as you know, in times long ago resulted in pregnancies and often the killabortion or the death killing of the child at birth in an attempt to conceal and remove the evidence of the infraction of that code of ethics and conduct.

Blessed hearts, it is good to place before oneself goals and self-discipline. Even the path of celibacy may be put on by married couples for a season of devotion, fasting and prayer. These cycles, then, of conjugal love side by side with an acceleration of the marriage to the living Christ can therefore allow the individual to be balanced, to retain dignity, to know the beauty of family life yet not to be deprived of the priesthood of holy orders.

Even so, the ancient prophets were married. Blessed ones, take heart then, for the corruptions of the old Church must pass away with the structure itself.
