

Ascended Masters

The demon "Overdate mammoth" resembles the woolly mammoth, one that has extremely long and curved tusks. It furthermore has a thick woolly covering of hair. They are an extinct animal.

These live in the past, their ideas are extinct. They have the thick covering that they are not able to hear words of wisdom, the mammoth has ears that are smaller than modern day elephants.

What is the basis for this "hard of hearing" whether in scripture or staying current with modern day changes is the perversion of the 5:00 o'clock line. You might say, they are becoming more extinct each day for not having pursued the teachings day-by-day and have not the sharp razor's edge of discerning the truth and error that is a needed part of traversing the path.

It is as that one who ascended who had not only read Saint Germain on Alchemy 16 times. He was reading other books to be learning. You may remember him watching TV actually. You never knew that he watched TV as a movie star and he was critiquing the shows he watched, it was not all entertainment. You did not know he was an avid learner. He was not limited to TV, he read many books. He was able to recite Longfellow by heart, passages from the Francis Bacon plays.

These then hate learning.

They may have had trauma experiences in learning, having nothing to do with schooling but perhaps as a child the household had been traumatic that they associate learning with growing up and had never resolved the emotional need of the soul to be learning. We spoke of selling out the soul for an emotional need. This is one way to sell out with a demon.

Thus one cannot judge by outer appearances how wise or learned a person may be by the number of books he has read or Pearls he had read before. Daniel Boone traveled a great deal and that was his learning. Learning and gaining wisdom is not all in studying words. It is gaining the Holy Spirit that one is able to read as this one who did ascend. It is a spiritual experience not only an intellectual one.

These have shame.

What you do in this exorcism then is to put the shame on the altar. You obey the instructions to cast out the demon of "woolly mammoth" and you accept shame.

You accept the soul and not push it away. You in the presence of the Chohans must be willing to be the bad student. In school, bad children are told to go and sit in a corner of the room and think about his sin. This you must do. You must go sit in the corner and know that El Morya or the Chohan of the First Ray or Abraham is in the room while you go sit in the corner.

This is where this person will sell out the soul. It is shameful not to be able to read, is it not? It is shameful if you are illiterate.

What happens when you do not want to feel shame? To become whole is not one of accepting the shameful state as who you are permanently. No, you are asked to sit in the corner of the room and feel the shame while El Morya is in the room. When you are ready to accept that you are a shameful person, you have acknowledged you have a soul and that you will not sell out the soul again over shame. Furthermore, you can be assured that you can return to the corner of the room again and feel the shame of your child. In your soul you must know that when you need the loving parent in the room, he is there. El Morya will not judge you. He does not compare you to the chela you were yesterday. He does not judge you where you are today, last week, how sinful you were. You must accept that there is non-judgment while you sit in the corner. El Morya does not come over and hug you. El Morya does not speak to you. He does nothing but keep silent while you accept yourself, he already accepts you. This is not an optional exercise if you desire not to lose your soul. You must go sit in the corner and feel the pain in being a soul.

This is a story of the Darjeeling Retreat, is it not?

There is no other way. You have to accept your soul, you have to acknowledge the soul. You cannot not feel shame which is why you sold out.

At some of the false hierarchy organizations, they kill the soul. At one group, they have the outright telling the soul the lie that it is to be destroyed and at the other, they have a half-divine being and half astral being portrait to put in the position of Christ.

You see, you avoid learning as you are avoiding the pain of shame, it is not the learning you avoid. Learning that one desires learning and avoids learning comes by itself. When you can love your soul by accepting that it feels shame, you can move forward. You exorcise this demon and embrace the soul for having all the qualities of shame, guilt, remorse and soul sensitivity.

When you deny one quality, you deny the others.

It is like those who have been responsible to feel pain. If they deny the guilt, they deny the soul sensitivity that others rely on them, wait upon them in community. They then do not feel their pain. When you deny soul pain in yourself, you deny soul pain in others saying that they have no right to feel soul pain either.

It is you that must remove antichrist enthroned where Christ is.

But these patterns were already there. So the final step to possession may be going through the initiations where they sold out the soul to put Christ in its place. You might say, the demon was more a dweller on the threshold when one were in the teachings. But by going to the false hierarchy groups, the dweller became king, to have been put into the place where Christ would be.

The soul is imperfect. Work assignments are a threat to souls as there has been a sell-out of the soul in life's disappointments where there have been persecutions or becoming demon possessed as a collapse to the force of life that negates your self-worth.

The shame will be projected in another way. You will choose not to go near others as you realize you are not like the others. You have avoidance behaviors.

When you feel soul pain, do you not know that the Christ Guru knows this? Of course he does. Then why will you not feel it? It is that the demon will not allow you to feel the love of the Christ Guru. Through the thick covering of this demon having taken over your soul, one does not feel the love of the Guru!

In such a demonic state, has the altar of Christ been neglected? Yes. It has also been the soul to be abandoned, it has been sold out. Antichrist is where Christ should be.

You are furthermore not expected to walk around like Jesus Christ when you are the soul. You are expected to act like a soul! Perhaps a better way of saying this is, you need a dose of God Reality in that the Guru is the Guru and you are the chela, you are the soul becoming.

You remember how The Messenger was, she would say, "what can I do for my chelas." She would think all day long about others. This is soul sensitivity. You might say, many times people hurt your feelings and you have to "shake the dust off his feet." You would not feel this soul pain when you do not accept your shame.

See how at one false hierarchy group, they have the polish of actors and actresses. When you have not your soul, you think this is Christ? When you have a soul—that is closer to Christ. When you have soul pain at seeing how others do not have an altar, that is how you move Christ mission forward.

Thus in casting out this demon, you must also be willing to accept your soul. You must go to the corner of the room and sit and cry. You must cry like a soul. Some people no longer cry even.

You must sit there until you know you have a soul. You must feel like a child. You must love the soul and say you will never leave it because you know El Morya or Mother Mary is in the room. You see either one as your "schoolteacher" who has put you in the corner that you might feel the pain of having tried to kill your soul. This calling to the souls in this community-wide exorcism is to call the souls home by the parent who oversees you. You do not have to go it alone on this path. You do not want to go it alone on this path as you have been taught by those who live by their carnal mind.

You go through the pain. You might say that all exorcisms have this pain. That the soul must be allowed to be what it is.
