The Reptile Fire Salamander

Whether on land or in water, fire salamanders are inconspicuous. They spend much of their time hidden beneath stones, wood or other objects. The salamanders hide within holes and crevasses in damp wood and tree trunks. When humans cut down wood to use for heating, the salamanders often remained hidden within. When a fire was lit, the heat forced the animals to leave the wood and crawl to safety. Because of this they appeared as though they were "crawling from within the flames"

As mentioned above, the fire salamander has a variety of unique and specialized body parts that come in very useful when trying to stay alive. The most prominent feature is its tail, which the fire salamander can detach to escape predators. In a matter of time, the fire salamander can grow an entirely new tail to replace the one it cast off. This is a very sneaky strategy for the fire salamander, as the tail sometimes even keep moving once detached from the body!

The demon "Salamandra" is one that will be inconspicuous. It will hide where he cannot be seen. It has been described as the dilation concept where those who go into a genocide will ignore their feelings and consider all that is the voice of Christ is but mutterings and to abrogate it and quickly move forward in the matter of the genocide.

In order to do this arrest of the soul wrenching, it must silence the voice of conscience, silence another's soul's cry for mercy and give no attention to ones own soul that asks for the mercy upon another. Thus this demon will cause another to learn the means and ways of terrorizing others.

It is seen in those who are insensate to the soul's yearning to be on the Christ path, to seek eternality, to seek for eternal life. It will not listen or study scripture. It will not attend church. It is one that will blaspheme what is holy so that it will not need to allow the soul to feel and to furthermore not cultivate the Christ Light in ones being and way of life.

One false hierarchy group takes the Christ Self off the I AM Presence chart. This is a person without feelings for offering the cup of cold water in Christ's name but is one who sees the path as one of mechanical ritual. When one hears the words of Christ and hears of the story of his life that moves the soul, there is not a resultant elevation of soul and to glorify the Christ Light.

It is how one leaves the path of Light and moves onto the path of death. When Moses would teach choose life not death, that one with this demon will choose death and not be able to know the difference. He quickly moves ahead so as to ignore the pleas and cries of conscience and cries of the soul.

The reptile fire salamander will cast off a tail. This one will cast off one description and identity and put on another to fool others that he has now a new cast. This is one who will say to another in a familiar relationship, I have changed, trust me, when he but casts off one identity or masquerade for another but it will not be one bearing of the Christ mantle.
