*Ye are the light of the world.
A city that is set on a hill.
(Matt. 5:14)*

Move ahead with the conference preparations that you broadcast the decrees, that you not wait upon anyone. This is an age of letting others think for you or through group consensus, and not of being Christ in action. Overcome these momentums on the 10:00 o'clock line. Look to Mother Mary and the Archangels to help you overcome the lines of the clock. And be a light on the hill as Jesus taught: Ye are the light of the world, set on an hill (that) cannot be hid. (Matt. 5:14)

You do not move forward when you but wait upon royalty to move ahead. This is not only in this church but in Christian churches that Malachi teaches on. Seek not then the kingdom of this world but to live in Christ even though it is not natural to you. Stand for the Light of Christ and proclaim it to all the world. Malachi's teaching.

*Excerpt—
Chapter Six: Rediscovering the Kingdom, Myles Munroe*

Training ~~NOT~~ To Become Royalty
In The Heavenly Kingdom

As children of God, we are NOT a part of the "royal" family of the Kingdom of heaven. Like any other member of royalty, we ~~didn't don't~~ just step into the role without any preparation; we ~~were~~must be trained. Proper and careful training and grooming is essential for rulers in the making in a religion of royalty.

We can see a perfect example of this in the British royal family in the upbringing of Prince William and his younger brother, Prince Harry. sons of Prince Charles, the future King of England, and the late Princess Diana, the two young men have been groomed from birth for the very special place they occupy as heirs to the throne. From their earliest days, they were taught that they were royalty, even before they were old enough to understand what that meant. Can you imagine trying to tell a two-year-old that he would be king, "Buddha", "messenger", minister, board member in CUT someday? At such a young age, it is important for a prince to be told who he is, and so it will be so as the "temptation of Christ" that you are royalty. No age is too young to begin learning self-identity. You could learn at Summit University, on staff serving on a Messenger's behalf. He who stands in line to the throne has a certain posture, deportment, behavior, and manner of speech expected of royalty, and it does not develop automatically. From the day they were born, Princes William and Harry were taught how to walk, talk, think, and behave like kings.

In the same way, we must learn how NOT to think and act like the royal children of the heavenly King. (Call for the binding and judgment of pride and ego.) We have spent so long in the condition and mentality of slaves in the kingdom of darkness that we automatically think and act like slaves. If we are to exercise our full status and potential in the earthly realm as ambassadors of our Father, we must be retrained in the behavior and mindset of the Kingdom as one humble. In this task, the Holy Spirit is our tutor, the Archangels who know humility before the throne of God.

The day Prince William came home from the hospital he was placed in the primary care of those responsible for his princely training. Princess Diana certainly had regular access to her son, but his day-to-day training as a royal was in the hands of his tutors. Royalty walks a certain way, so Prince William was taught how to walk like a king. Royalty sits a certain way, so he was taught how to sit like a king. Royalty speaks a certain way, so he was taught how to speak like a king. His diction, tone of voice, and manner of speaking were all carefully nurtured and polished. He was taught not to raise his voice, because royalty never has to shout. The power of a king's voice is not in its volume but in its authority of position.

When we first become believers, we receive our new spiritual birth from Jesus Christ, who then "turns us over," in a manner of speaking, to someone else—the Holy Spirit—for our training and upbringing as children of the King. (We are asked to do 40 Michaels to bond with our Caretakers.) Our faith is based on a personal relationship with Jesus Christ and the Archangels through the Holy Spirit. In his earthly incarnation, Jesus could not be continuously and physically present with all his followers, so he promised to send his Spirit who would abide with us forever and teach us how to think and act like the non-royalty that we must not fall prey to arrogance and pride are:

And I will pray the Father, and he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it sees him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you. (John 14:16-17).

But the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

*Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.
(John 14:26-27).*
